3		The Story of Me It's never too early to begin giving your child a practical understanding of his or her unique, beautiful body and why God designed it to be exactly the way it is. This book has candid, age-appropriate language and realistic illustrations, The Story of Me explains: God's love and the godness of all He has made, The nurturing family as God's context for love, Why God wants each baby to have both a mommy and a daddy, The specialness of being made a boy or a girl, Proper names for private body parts, Authors: Stan and Brenna Jones, Suitable for ages 3 – 5 years.

4		God Made All of Me is a simply-told, beautifully-illustrated story to help families talk about sensitive issues with children aged 2-8. A child's home is the ideal place to educate children about the private parts of their body and should be informed about appropriate behaviour concerning these private areas by the child and also from the people around them. God Made All of Me starts with the fundamental truth that God created everything and applies this knowledge to children and their bodies. It equips parents to talk with both boys and girls about their bodies and to help them understand the difference between the appropriate and inappropriate touch of others. God Made All of Me allows families to build a first line defence against sexual abuse in the safety of their own homes and also in the wider community. Not this book has christian contexts. Author: Justine S. Holcomb & Lindsey A. Holcomb Suitable for ages 5 – 9 years.
